CONDITION OF CROPS

Report given By The Ohio State
Agricultural Commission.

Ohio's estimated wheat production for harvest just passed was 27,297,467 bushels, which is approximately 17,000,000 more bushels than the estimated production of one year ago; but the crop harvested in 1912 was practically a failure, many countries not harvesting enough wheat to supply seed for the next crop. Compared with estimated production of 1911 and 1910, the 1913 crop falls below them about 4,000,000 bushels. The average production per acre is 17 bushels as against 15 bushels in 1911 and 16 bushels in 1910; the 1912 crop being nil cannot be used for comparison. Quality compared with an average is estimated at 96 per cent as against 76 per cent in 1912, 94 in 1911 and 93 in 1910. These facts may be construed to show that farmers are improving the fertility of their soil and seed sown. If acreage would be brought up to that harvested in 1911 or 1910, or better, Ohio would harvest her quota of wheat. Of the crop of 1912 it is estimated that 10 per cent still remains in producers' hands.

Oats show a low production, due to extreme dry weather during latter part of May and June, heads being very short and not well filled. Harvest being estimated at 44,950,805 bushels; this is approximately 39,000,000 bushels less than 1912 production; 2,000,000 less than in 1911 and 9,000,000 less than in 1910. The 1912 acreage was the greatest in years, due to so much wheat being winter-killed and sown to oats. Favorable weather made 1912 average production per acre 44 bushels, while 1913 average production was estimated at 28 bushels per acre.

Barley shows a decrease in estimated production per acre, due to dry weather, the 1913 estimated production per acre being 22 bushels as against 29 bushels in 1912.

Rye shows a decrease in production per acre as compared with 1912, being 16 bushels in 1913 as against 17 bushels in 1912, but in 1913 the acreage was 100,000 more than in 1912. The total estimated production for 1913 is 2,971,076 bushels as against 1,451,889 in 1912. Like barley, the acreage has been steadily increasing for the past four years. In 1910 the acreage was 64,000.

Corn prospects are not flattering. The present prospect is estimated at 83 per cent, based upon 35 bushels per acre representing 100 per cent. On the corresponding date one year ago, prospect was estimated at 96 per cent. The low prospect this year was caused by extreme dry weather when corn was earing. The 1913 estimated acreage is 150,000 less than 1912. This with the low prospects will bring the total production materially lower than in 1912.

Reports indicate that the potato crop will be short. The probable total yield as compared with last year is 50 per cent. The 1912 estimate was 124 percent compared with previous year.

Apple prospects as compared with last year is 33 per cent.

THE FAMILY COUGH MEDICINE.

In every home there should be a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery, ready for immediate use when any member of the family contracts a cold or a cough. Prompt use will stop the spread of sickness. S. A. Stid, of Mason, Mich., writes: "My whole family depends upon Dr. King's New Discovery as the best cough and cold medicine in the world. Two 50c bottles cured me of pneumonia." Thousands of other families have been equally benefited and depend entirely upon Dr. King's New Discovery to cure their coughs, colds, throat and lung troubles. Every dose helps. Price, 50c and $1.00. All druggists. H. E. Bucklen & Co., Philadelphia or St. Louis.—Adv.

BURGLARY AT DUNBRIDGE

Postoffice, Hardware Store and Lumber Company Visited.

Burglars got in their work in the village of Dunbridge at about 3 o'clock Wednesday morning. They entered the general store of John Currant where they selected about $75 worth of goods and then stepped into the Postoffice department which is in this store room and helped themselves to enough postage stamps to make them interesting subjects for Uncle Sam's consideration.

After leaving the John Currant building they visited the H. A. Keil hardware store, where nothing was taken although there are indications of a strict search having been made for money.

The office of the Trepanier lumber company was visited and the safe door blown off.

The burglars only secured a small amount of pennies, as Mr. Trepanier had banked his cash the previous afternoon.

The burglars evidently became disgusted with the results of their labors and quietly departed.

As yet there is no clue.

MAUMEE MAN MARRIED.

A pretty autumn wedding was solemnized at Defiance on Wednesday evening, Oct. 8, when Miss Letha Mae, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Engel of this city, became the bride of Mr. Howard Earl Lovett of Maumee. The wedding ceremony was performed in the First Presbyterian Church by Rev. Curtis Shields at 7 p. m.

Following the wedding ceremony the bridal party repaired to the Engel home, where a wedding supper was served which was followed at 8:30 by a reception.

The bride who is one of Defiance's fairest daughters, is prominent socially. The groom is manager of the Maumee Power Co. He was formerly connected with the Defiance Gas & Electric Co.

The couple left Wednesday night on an extended wedding trip. They will be at home at 215 Broadway, Maumee after November 1.

Mr. Lovett has many friends in Perrysburg who will extend to himself and his bride a most cordial welcome to this section of the Maumee valley.

MARRIED IN CHICAGO.

Cards announce the marriage of Mr. Joseph Reape and Miss Eva Zingg of Perrysburg, on Monday, September 29, at Chicago, Ill. They are now living on Indiana ave., in Perrysburg, and have the best wishes of a large circle of friends. They will be at home to their friends after October 20.

Chronic Dyspepsia.

The following unsolicited testimonial should be sufficient to give hope and courage to persons afflicted with chronic dyspepsia: "I have been a chronic dyspeptic for years, and of all the medicine I have taken, Chamberlain's Tablets have done me more good than anything else," says W. G. Mattison, No. 7 Sherman St., Hornellsville, N. Y. For sale by all dealers.

CANDIDATES FOR SCHOOL BOARD.

The following is a list of candidates for members of the Board of Education for Perrysburg village, as reported by the Deputy State Supervisors of Election of Wood County:

G. B. Lowmsbury,
Dr. W. H. Rheinfrank,
Chas. H. Van Norman.

A Marvelous Escape.

"My little boy had a marvelous escape," writes P. F. Bastians of Prince Albert, Cape of Good Hope. "It occurred in the middle of the night. He got a very severe attack of croup. As luck would have it, I had a large bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in the house. After following the directions for an hour and twenty minutes he was through all danger. Sold by all dealers.

VIOLATING ROSE LAW

Liquor Must Not be Kept in Public Places for Private Use.

In one of his famous comprehensive and clearly expressed decisions, Judge Baldwin Monday morning sustained the decision of Mayor D. C. Van Voorhis in the case of Ohio against Lynn Riess.

In reviewing the testimony, which showed that no moral turpitude was claimed against the defendant, and that none evidently existed, the court quoted several statutes of Ohio to sustain the decision of the mayor that the defendant had violated the Rose county option law by the mere fact of keeping liquor in a place not a drug store nor a private residence.

The court pointed out that the law forbids the keeping of liquor by any club, society or other combination in a county where the sale of liquor is prohibited, notwithstanding the fact that none may be sold there also that, the finding of liquor in a prohibited place is to be taken as prima facie evidence that the law has been violated. So that while the evidence showed the liquor had been kept for private use only and that there had been no sale nor intention of selling it the court sustained the mayor in his opinion that the Rose law had been violated. Judge Baldwin stated that, were the law not to be so construed, any number of persons could band together and keep beer, as in this case, and thus make the Rose law nugatory.

Judge Baldwin also found no error in the mayor's admission of evidence or the refusal to admit evidence.

J. E. Shatzel, attorney for the defense states that the case will be taken up to the court of appeals.

COURT HOUSE NEWS.

Roy Smith was acquitted of the charge of horse stealing Wednesday afternoon. The verdict caused Judge Baldwin to censure the jury's interpretation of the law and the evidence in the case.

Roy Calkins has brought suit for divorce from Ette Calkins on the ground of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. They were married eleven years ago. Their only child is an adopted six year old daughter. He says he farmed near Grand Rapids and in Lucas county, but that she was accustomed to go away from home and leave him to get his own meals and look after the house after his own work in the fields. He accuses her of cruel talk and of refusing to heed his protests against her leaving her home so much, especially in Toledo.

Cora Boice has brought suit for divorce from George Boice on the ground of gross neglect of duty and extreme cruelty. They were married nine years ago and have two children. Out-lot two, Tontogany and 6 1/2 acres adjoining that town comprise property which she asks to be administered in the suit.

Edward Fields aged 25, bartender and night clerk at the Normandy Hotel at Toledo, was this afternoon found not guilty of picking the pocket of Daniel T. Schaberg, of Freedom township, at the ox roast in Shenler's Grove, near Bradner, August 7th last.

NEW REAL ESTATE FIRM.

Another new business firm has been launched in the real estate trade of Perrysburg and will hereafter be known as Dibert & Curtis. Mr. Joe Curtis having taken a half interest in the growing agency heretofore established by Mr. Alfred Dibert. They are doing business at the old stand in the DuFord building on Main street.

The man who proved the stable fly's responsibility for infantile paralysis has received a gold medal. Man's responsibility for the stable fly doesn't need proving.

Manuel Braganza finds that his income of $50,000 is $100,000 a year too small. Who would have thought that being an ex-king is so expensive?

SOME OBSERVATIONS

Things Seen and Unseen, Wise and Otherwise, True and Untrue.

Once again the Athletics have proven themselves the victors and have added another World's series to their list of honors. Slow old Philadelphia has proven too much for the Giants, notwithstanding the great Billy Sunday, the man who knows all about heaven, hell and base ball, declared it his opinion that there was nothing to it except Giants. Bill was firm in his belief that the Giants would prove the victors, and his failure in the national game, proves that even so great a man is not always right in his opinions. Billy better stick to his present job and not give out opinions on base ball, for in this ball game there are many ways of proving whether or not the "prophet" is correct.

The people who are able to read the signs of the times and who realize that suburban residence property is of high value, are responsible for the activity in real estate in Perrysburg. The man who has tired of living in a flat, is seeking a convenient place for a home of his own, where he can stand on his own soil, press the green grass of his own green lawn under his feet; look up into the blue sky which is directly above his head and thank God there is nothing but good air, the odor of roses, and a clear path between himself and heaven, finds that here in Perrysburg is the opportunity for which he has long been sighing and that the ache in his heart for a real home in a real land of peace and plenty, can find a permanent cure by the purchase of a home or a building lot in the beautiful village of Perrysburg.

Occasionally things will happen that are sufficiently aggravating to cause an editor to commit a few murders and then end it all by "shuffling off this mortal coil," and this is especially true when, just after his paper is off the press, he discovers an error that seems nothing less than an ediotic blunder. Such a case was one of our last week announcements when we discovered that a news item gave the name of Timothy Ragan instead of Timothy RYAN whose death was mentioned. None regret such errors so deeply as does the editor. We are pleased to note that our friend Mr. RAGAN is still living and a remarkably brilliant gentleman for one of his years.

A friend of mine who was married about two years ago was filled with joy over the recent arrival in his home of a baby boy. Every time we met during the first few weeks of his newly acquired greatness it was my portion to listen to glowing accounts of that wonderful boy. But all things change as Time moves on and the song he last sung to me was—

Oh, for a safety pin that's safe!
It would make my life all joy.
Oh, for a food that will not give
The cramps to my little boy!
Oh, for the boon once more of a night
Of solid square repose!
'Tis this only that I want
Oh give me an old-time doze.

Strange how easy it seems to be for some people to criticise the work of others, and what a terrible task it is to offer praise. Compliment and complaint. Both words are spelled much alike—the first five letters of each being the same—but there are many people who seem to be most familiar with the use of the latter word. How much lighter would be the "white man's burden" if that word "complaint" were taken from the English language.

I see by the telegraphic reports in the daily papers that this country may expect to be hit hard by a hurricane, cyclone, tidal wave or something equally disagreeable, within the week, when Mrs. Paukhurst arrives from London. Wonder if that is the reason Teddy R. decided to go to South America?
